Develop your teaching skills while working with peers to improve undergraduate education at UC Davis. The Teaching Assistant Consulting program is a professional development fellowship to prepare graduate students for careers in college teaching and help foster effective, inclusive teaching practices across campus.

TAC Fellows can expect to:
- Participate in ongoing learning and professional development opportunities.
- Receive a quarterly fellowship of $1,500.
- Gain valuable experience for a career in college teaching.
- Provide one-on-one consultations for Teaching Assistants and Associate Instructors.
- Collaboratively facilitate workshops for Teaching Assistants and Associate Instructors.
- Learn about the exciting career field of instructional development.

Applications Include:
- Two (2) faculty letters of recommendation.
- A personal statement that may address one or more of the following themes: collaboration, cultural competence, student-centered teaching, inclusive university environments, leadership, and communication.
- Summary of student evaluations from one course, and a reflection on the evaluations.

Successful applicants:
- Have at least three quarters of TA experience at any institution.
- Are regularly enrolled as a graduate student (master’s or doctoral level) all three quarters of the fellowship (Spring 2018, Fall 2018, and Winter 2019).
- Are able to invest approximately six to seven hours per week in the program throughout the fellowship period.

Core values & areas of work:
- Collaboration
- Cultural competence
- Student-centered instruction
- Inclusive university environments
- Effective communication
- Leadership and listening

Application deadline: January 19, 2018

For more information and to apply: http://cee.ucdavis.edu/teaching-support/become-tac.html

Questions?
Contact cee@ucdavis.edu or (530) 752-6050